consulting

The home of the PhD in Creativity is in the College of the Arts at Rowan University. The text describing the program and courses is © copyright Jonathan Fineberg, 2018 with revisions © copyright Jonathan Fineberg, 2019, 2024, 2025.

Jonathan Fineberg established the program at University of the Arts in Philadelphia, accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education in 2019 and by the Departments of Education in Pennsylvania in 2019 and New Jersey in 2024. We admitted our first cohort of students in 2019 and have operated continuously since at University of the Arts from 2019 until the summer of 2024 when the program relocated to Rowan University.

The program is intended to be scalable and adaptable to other universities as well as businesses where tailored versions are being created by The PhD in Creativity® Consulting, established by Jonathan Fineberg in 2025.

We offer an institution specific consulting and training service for faculty and staff to establish like and related programs at different universities and corporations.
